Robert Donsi Visits Panama During Cruise

Robert Donsi, of 3248 Dana, Torrance, recently flew to the Panama Canal Zone at New Orleans, La., as part of two-week training cruise with Naval Reserve Transport Squadron VR-774.

Donsi, an Aviation Electronics Technician Airman in the Naval Reserve, was an orderly on the flight, which was made in an R5D. Naval parlor for Douglas DC-4.

Donsi and other members of the crew visited Panama City while in the Canal Zone, only recently reopened to U.S. citizens after the Panamanian student demonstrations.

The two-week cruise, undertaken each fall, is part of an over all Reserve program to keep civilian Navy men in operational flight readiness while pursuing their usual civilian occupations. Donsi meets with his squadron at the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station in Long Beach one weekend a month throughout the year.
